Past Performance

AEDA may be a small firm but our employees have a lot of experience. We have associates with work history that stretches across the country. Our experience in station design is influenced by a diverse staff. Our staff has produced design work in a variety of places and in a variety of styles from Florida to New England. In addition, we have design experience with community buildings, municipal garages, storage facilities, and a plethora of other related design functions which support Fire Station design.
